

REDS REPORTED HOLDING IN EVERY SECTOR

Reinforced Nazis Fail To Advance Before Stalingrad

Moscow, Sept. 9.—(AP)—Reinforced German divisions concentrated attacks upon the western defenses of Stalingrad today in an effort to widen a hard-won wedge and the situation was described here as "particularly complicated," but the Red army was reported holding fiercely in every sector.

The Russians said Nazi tanks and infantry, sheltered by dive-bombers, had deepened the salient from the west yesterday while Soviet troops beat off flanking attacks from the southwest.

Today's mid-day communique, however, mentioned no withdrawals and announced further gains in the central front offensive.

(The German high command announced that dominating heights in the fortified area west of Stalingrad had been captured by German forces after bitter fighting.

(German tanks led the way into the fortified zone despite a stubborn defense by the Russians, the German communique said. During the night, it was reported, Russian aircraft east of the Volga and in Stalingrad itself were bombed by German planes.

(More than 1,000 prisoners were reported captured along with 27 guns and an armored train in the capture of a height southeast of the naval base of Novorossiysk. German bombers, it was said, sank a 500-ton transport in the Black Sea.

(The communique said that 2-126 Russian tanks were destroyed in the Rzhev area from July 30 to Sept. 6.

(The war bulletin said new Russian attacks southwest of Kaluga, 100 miles southwest of Moscow, had been repulsed. Other Red army thrusts on the Leningrad front also were said to have been beaten off.)

Russian troops dislodged the enemy from a fortified district west of Moscow and occupied three more settlements, it said. They were reported to have slain 400 Germans and captured prisoners and war supplies.

A Russian minefield west of Stalingrad blew up three German tanks and Soviet gunners damaged six others of a formation maneuvering in front of the field, the communique said.

Red army mortar batteries and riflemen were reported to have slain 250 invaders in two of a series of actions southwest of the Volga river industrial center, (Turn to Page Nine)

Cleveland, Ohio, Sept. 9.—(P)—Under Secretary of War Robert P. Patterson said today that the nation's tank production had reached "an impressive figure," and that the nation turned out more war planes last month than Germany, Japan and Italy combined.

In a speech prepared for delivery before the United Electrical, Radio and Machine Workers convention, Patterson added that tank production would be doubled in December and "we are putting our best efforts into bringing out new planes of designs far superior to any that we have now."

Praising the type of men in the armed forces, their training, equipment and leadership, the under secretary declared the Japanese "already know that they blundered when they counted on Americans being soft, selfish and easy-going."

Patterson said that in speed, range, toughness of armor and hitting power, the U. S. medium tank, either the M3 or the M4, "is superior to the best German tank" as "proved in combat in Egypt."

London, Sept. 9.—(P)—Air raid sirens whirled one of their rare night alarms over Britain's capital late this afternoon when enemy planes approached high over the Thames estuary but the all-clear quickly followed. There were no reports of incidents.

Early Rupture With Vichy Believed Near Sixth Night Raid Made on Rhineland Cities

Pattern of Axis Near East Thrusts

New German drives in Egypt linked with Nazi successes at Stalingrad shape the pattern of axis aims of joining forces in the Near East by thrusting from one major objective to the next. Goals are oil fields for thirsty Nazi war machine and communications centers and bases like Suez Canal, Stalingrad and Alexandria.

Seven States Hold Elections With Many Incumbents Ahead

Former Lieutenant of Huey Long Given Majority In Louisiana

ISOLATIONIST WINNER

Renomination appeared assured today to a wide majority of incumbents in national and state offices on the basis of unofficial returns from primary balloting in nine states and Georgia Democrats voted today.

Democrats in Louisiana gave a sweeping majority to Senator A. (Turn to Page Five)

Harrisburg, Sept. 9.—(P)—Major Pennsylvania political parties followed similar procedure today in an effort to get out the soldier vote in the November general election.

Working through county organizations, Republicans and Democrats sent military ballot applications to men in the armed forces and urged their return to election boards back home.

Both parties agreed only a light soldier vote was in prospect with little chance of any Pennsylvania serving outside the United States casting a ballot. Only 1,362 soldiers voted in the May primaries.

The State Elections Bureau last week acted to encourage military ballots by urging county boards to (Turn to Page Five)

Greensburg, Sept. 9.—(P)—The trial of an 18-year-old Latrobe youth charged with running down and killing his 61-year-old stepfather with an automobile near Lloydysville last month moved into its second day today.

A 15-year-old sister-in-law, Iva Swager, of Latrobe, R. D. 2, told the jury yesterday the youth, Russell Roddy, pounded the instrument panel of his automobile with his fist in anger just before starting a wild drive down a hill and striking his stepfather, Ernest Fletcher.

Nazi Propaganda Film Proves Unimpressive

Lisbon, Sept. 9.—(P)—Neither the scenes nor the commentary of the German propaganda film, "How We Deal With the British at Dieppe," impressed a single movie critic in this Portuguese capital, one of whom called it "a poor show which cannot convince even those who know little about movies."

Many residents of Lisbon had been invited by the Nazi legation to the premier showing last night. "In my opinion," summed up Augusto Fraga, one of Lisbon's leading movie critics, "at least their cameramen were taken by surprise and unable to produce one of their first class newsreels."

"In order to produce this film they had to bring in a lot of clever studio work and make-ups, which no longer pass unnoticed by movie fans."

LAVAL NOTE IS REJECTED IMMEDIATELY

Pro-Axis Chief in France Advised Shelling of Axis Plants Will Be Continued

AWAIT OFFICIAL WORD

Washington, Sept. 9.—(P)—Rupture of United States relations with Vichy loomed again today on the diplomatic horizon.

This time it was Vichy's protest against American air raids over occupied France, and the United States' sharp rejection of that protest, which revived talk of an imminent break.

The protest, delivered personally to the American charge d'affaires in Vichy by pro-Axis chief of government Pierre Laval, was "immediately" rejected, the state department disclosed last night, and Laval was notified the bombing of German military plants in France would continue.

Laval protested specifically against recent bombings of the Havre and Rouen both in the occupied zone in which he said there were numerous casualties. (Vichy reported 80 civilians killed and 130 injured.)

In rejecting the protest and assuring Laval that the attacks would continue, American Charge d'Affaires S. Pinkney Tuck drew no distinction between occupied and unoccupied France, stating simply that "military plants operated by or for Germany and other German military properties in France will be bombed at every opportunity in the future."

Tuck emphasized that Americans have no desire to see Frenchmen suffer any more than can be avoided, "since they have already suffered to an incalculable extent under German occupation," but he left no doubt that attacks on German objectives would be continued regardless of protests.

Vichy, Sept. 9.—(P)—A source close to the government said today that Washington's rejection of the Vichy protest over the American air raids on German-occupied France had not yet been received officially.

Ohio Bomber Crash Causes Nine Deaths

Newark, O., Sept. 9.—(P)—Salvage workers cleaning up the wreckage of a two-motored bomber that crashed into an apartment house today found the remains of what they believed to be a ninth victim.

Eight bodies—six occupants of the plane and two women civilians—already had been recovered from the debris of yesterday's mid-town crash. Neither army nor local authorities were able to establish at once identity of the last body.

City firemen, directed by army officers investigating the accident, early today found the body of Mrs. A. L. Weston, 62-year-old widow, deep under debris of the two-story structure which she owned. Mrs. (Turn to Page Nine)

Detroit, Sept. 9.—(P)—Acting under a requisition order of the War Production Board, Salvage officials today seized an estimated 50 tons of scrap from the farm of Ora Benjamin, near Walled Lake, Mich., northwest of Detroit.

WPB officials said it was the first time since passage of the war emergency act that such action had been taken against a farmer, although material has been seized from a scrapyard.

John D. McPhis, executive secretary of the Michigan State Salvage Commission who in company with a United States marshal served the requisition order on Benjamin, said that since last April the farmer has refused to sell the scrap at what the WPB considered a fair price.

Metal Requisitioned On a Michigan Farm

Washington, Sept. 9.—(P)—Auditor General F. Clair Ross was asked today by Governor James to be more specific in his criticism of the state government's contribution to the war effort.

Pointing out the Democratic gubernatorial candidate is a member of the State Defense Council, James said:

"If there is any laxity he would be chargeable as much as any member."

Last week Ross, in his opening campaign speech, asserted the James' administration "has failed in its duties to the commonwealth and to the country in this war."

James replied upon his return to the capitol yesterday after a vacation.

All Commercial Vehicles To Be Under Government Control

Federal Officials Plan Drastic Action to Force Conservation

WASHINGTON, Sept. 9.—(P)—Fearing impairment of the nation's war effort through loss of transportation services, the government moved today to control operations of trucks, buses and taxicabs by Nov. 15.

An Office of Defense Transportation order yesterday directed operators of the commercial vehicles affected to carry a certificate of war necessity to obtain fuel, tires, tubes and accessories.

Describing the order as "a drastic move to obtain further conservation of such equipment for war purposes," the ODT estimated about 5,000,000 trucks, 150,000 buses, 50,000 cabs and similar vehicles would come under its control.

Passenger cars and motorcycles are exempted.

Senator Green (D-R-I) wrote President Roosevelt that extension of gasoline rationing beyond the 17 eastern states now affected was the only means "of maintaining our present transportation needs" and of supplying the eastern seaboard with fuel oil for heating this winter.

In making public the letter, Green said automobiles were being withdrawn from the highways at the rate of 1,000,000 a month and that by the end of 1945 there would be but 4,500,000 while "our present economy demands at least 20,000,000 cars to make up for the deficiency of our public transportation." Transport Is Damaged By Fire at Sea

More Than 1,600 Passengers and Crew Removed Safely From Wakefield

WASHINGTON, Sept. 9.—(P)—The naval transport Wakefield, formerly the liner Manhattan, was severely damaged by a fire at sea September 3, the navy announced today, but more than 1,600 passengers and crew members were removed without loss of life.

The charred hulk of the 24,000-ton ship, one time queen of the United States merchant fleet, has now been salvaged and towed to an Atlantic coast port, a navy statement said.

Adding that "preliminary reports indicate that all the passengers and crew were safe. The navy said several were injured."

The fire was described as being of "undetermined origin."

It broke out on one deck level and spread swiftly throughout the ten-year-old, 100,000,000 ship. (Turn to Page Five)

Washington, Sept. 9.—(P)—The senate finance committee reaffirmed today its adoption of the 5 per cent victory tax on individual earnings over $624 a year, and also approved a proposal for a joint congressional study of compulsory savings to aid in financing the war.

Washington, Sept. 9.—(P)—The senate finance committee was committed today to a minimum of $7,675,000,000 in new taxes—about $1,025,000,000 short of the treasury's goal—as a result of its vote to adopt a 5 per cent "victory" levy on all individual earnings in excess of $624 a year.

In addition, the committee action proposed to segregate $1,100,000,000 in individual income from (Turn to Page Five)

Washington, Sept. 9.—(P)—The National Association of Broadcasters says that the ban against the making of recordings for radio or other public use by members of the American Federation of Musicians (AFL) has been extended to cover electrical transcriptions used for a single broadcast by radio stations and then destroyed.

Sydney Kaye, counsel to the NAB, said that the order extending the scope of the ban was issued last Thursday by James C. Petrillo, union president.

"Mr. Petrillo's action," the NAB statement said, "is motivated only by the desire to make his dictatorship over the field of music all-inclusive."

The Association said the action was "another act of aggression against wartime morale and communications in the United States."

Philadelphia, Sept. 9.—(P)—A gun factory which six months ago stood in a bomb-scarred city in England has been dismantled and shipped piece by piece to the United States, Edward R. Stettinius, Jr., lend-lease administrator, disclosed today.

Stettinius, in an article in the new issue of the Saturday Evening Post, cited the transfer to show that lend-lease is now "no longer a one-way street" directly aiding only U. S. Allies.

"It was easier and faster to ship the factory than to ship the guns," he wrote. "We paid nothing for this arsenal. The British consider themselves amply repaid by the damage these guns will inflict on the Germans and Japanese in the hands of our soldiers."

The British have also sent "several thousand" barrage balloons to "protect vital spots along our coasts" and from England and other Allied nations the government has received "guns and tools, machinery and scientific information—anything which they can spare and we are in a better spot to use than they are," the article said.

Stettinius added, however, that "we are still paying for many of the things we get" from "United Nations partners."

Rommel Reported Suffering From Some Serious Malady

BY FRANK LEE MARTIN, JR.

Ankara, Sept. 8.—(Delayed)—(P)—A member of Wendell L. Willkie's party visiting Turkey, who asked not to be identified by name, said today that German officers captured in Africa had disclosed that the German Field Marshal Erwin Rommel is suffering from some malady and may be relieved of his command.

The nature of the supposed disease was not stated.

These officers, captured in the recent battle in which Rommel's forces suffered serious losses, were quoted as saying the field marshal either has been returned to Germany by air, or is awaiting relief by some other commander.

President Forrest Waite presided over last night's regular meeting of the Warren borough council during which time considerable business, mostly of routine nature, was brought before the group.

An old borough ordinance on disorderly conduct was revamped and passed on the second reading, with minor changes made. It was presented before council by Borough Solicitor Sidney W. Blackman.

Citizens in the residential district of Oak street and Lexington avenue appealed for relief in correcting a smoke and soot condition in that neighborhood, and a committee was appointed to investigate the matter.

Councilman Roy Krebs presented the financial report, after which Councilman R. H. Trusler of the street and maintenance committee recommended that council purchase approximately 160 tons of slag from the Tri-State Engineering Company at a price of $150, for use in repairing borough streets. The recommendation was approved on condition that no rent be charged council for the period that the slag remains at Venturtown, where it is stored, until it can be removed from there.

Glenn E. Stone presented the police committee report, and offered a motion that five borough police officers eligible for vacations be given compensation and forego their vacation periods at a cost of approximately $380 to the council due to the fact that sufficient reserve officers are not available this year. The motion was seconded and passed.

By mistake, Abner delivers the note to the rotund Widdie Abernathy, played by Constance Purdy, who readily accepts Lum and he is only saved in the nick of time in the middle of the ceremony for an uproarious climax in this RKO Radio comedy.

Advice on Sending Gifts To Sailors and Marines Offered

Christmas parcels for sailors and marines should be mailed early and kept small. This is the advice offered in a statement issued by the Navy Department.

Supplying a set of "dos" and "don'ts" the navy said gifts should be mailed between Oct. 1 and Nov. 1, and labeled "Christmas parcel" to get special attention.

Articles should be easily portable, and useful in any climate, such as toilet kits, watches, notebooks, pens and photographs. Electrical apparatus "is of doubtful value", and food should be avoided particularly, because it is apt to arrive in bad condition.

Other instructions: No clothing unless it was specifically requested.

No mailing of intoxicants, inflammable materials, or poisons—prohibited by postal regulations.

Because of shipping space shortages, size of Christmas packages should not be larger than an ordinary shoebox, or weigh over six pounds.

Because most of the packages must travel a long distance and stand considerable handling, they should be packed substantially and covered by strong wrapping. To facilitate censoring, they should not be sealed.

Parcels for men overseas should show the name and address of the sender, and the name, rank or rating of the addressee, and, if in the navy, the unit or ship to which he is assigned. The location of the unit or ship, even if known by the sender, should never be included, and only two post office addresses should be used on overseas packages—Care, Postmaster, New York, or Care, Postmaster, San Francisco.

Inscriptions such as "Merry Christmas," or "do not open until Christmas" may appear on the cover if they do not interfere with the address. Postage must be fully prepaid.

If money is sent, money orders should always be used, since at many foreign posts, there are local prohibitions against importation of United States money.

To enter this program a person who is now employed or expects to be employed in sales work is interested in receiving instruction in salesmanship should talk to any merchant and ask for an application blank, or to the Chamber of Commerce, Room 312, Warren Bank and Trust Building.

Heirloom Is Presented To Island Park

Youngville, Sept. 7—Mr. and Mrs. Willis Kinnear have just presented to the citizens of Youngville an American flag of patriotic and historic importance in the near family. The flag is now given as a tribute to Lewis J. Kinnear, son of Mr. and Mrs. Willis Kinnear now in the United States army in Europe and also in honor of all Youngville boys, over fifty in number, in the U. S. forces.

The flag which was given to Mr. and Mrs. Kinnear by Mrs. Belle Kay was an heirloom in the Kinnear family and was made by Mrs. Belle Kay's mother, Mrs. Lewis J. Kinnear and a sister Mrs. Mame Cody and was presented to her father, Lewis J. Kinnear who served for three years in the Civil War.

This flag with its interesting history will be used on Island Park.

AUXILIARY DEFENSE CORPS

There's a wonderful opportunity for men not in a selective service class likely to be called soon, to do a patriotic service for their country right now by joining up with the Company of Pennsylvania Reserve Defense Corps about to be organized in the county by C. D. Cannon, who has been named to head up the unit.

Mr. Cannon, who incidentally is well qualified for the important task assigned him, points out that the company is to consist of 63 men and officers. The duties of the Corps will be to guard war production plants, bridges or other vital spots within Warren county in case the regular Defense Corps is inadequate in number or is called outside the county.

Mr. Cannon has gathered considerable information about the Corps which he will be glad to submit to men interested. His job would be made a lot easier if fifty or sixty desirable men would call him at 150-W and offer to enroll before he is compelled to start a recruiting campaign.

How about it men!

LOOSE TALK

Walter Reuther is a big man now, vice president of the United Automobile, Aircraft and Agricultural Workers' Union, C. I. O. He can afford no longer to pop off, just to get headlines.

Reuther claims that, notwithstanding reports that the Fisher plant at Pontiac is five months ahead of schedule, it has produced only one gun. Unfortunately the union leader has two Fisher plants confused. One is five months ahead of schedule. The other has produced only one gun. The latter still is ahead of schedule, since the one gun is a prototype, and the plant is not scheduled for production until October.

That's the sort of loose talking that is even more to be condemned in highly placed officials, who command news space, than in the layman to whose grouching not even his own family pays much attention.

OPEN LETTER

Dear Leon Henderson: We are in receipt of OPA Release 476 from the Office of War Information, on the subject of rubber heel prices, consisting of six and one-third pages on an excellent grade of white paper.

Set in the same size of type used in our news columns, this release would take one solid page and would carry over four inches onto another page, exclusive of the heading. Our foreman says that it would require the equivalent of a full day's time of a first-class printer to handle the tables, alone.

Probably a few trade papers can use this release. We regret to say that we cannot. Sincerely, The Editor.

"Defense Determines the Mode," a dramatization of American industry's pledge to provide for permissible civilian needs without slackening its mass production of the armaments to defend the American Way of Life, is on view in a window at the Metzger-Wright Co. store during the remainder of the week. The exhibit which was prepared by the National Association of Manufacturers will appear in leading department stores in key cities throughout the country, and is well worth close inspection by every citizen.

It should interest many in Warren to learn that the War Savings staff of the U. S. Treasury Department recently issued a memorandum advising that contributions to the government in the form of institutional ads to promote the sale of War Bonds and Stamps are deductible for income tax purposes—both with respect to individuals and corporations.

News of the sudden passing of James W. Crawford, former well known and highly respected resident of Warren, at the home of a relative in East Fifth avenue this morning, while on a visit here from California where he has resided for many years, will be learned with genuine sorrow by a host of older residents who recall his cheery personality and progressive interest in community affairs.

Congratulations to school officials on the smooth manner in which sessions have been resumed.

And He'd Better Get Tough

WASHINGTON IN WARTIME

By JOHN GROVER

(For Jack Stinnett, on vacation)

WASHINGTON — That British semi-expert who cast slurs on "inferior" U. S. four-motored bombers certainly got a quick and pointed answer to his charges that the American "big boys" lacked armament, fire power and speed. In four forays unscathed over enemy territory, not a bomber manufactured in the U. S. was lost.

His crack that the Flying Fortresses and Liberators "lacked speed" — actually U. S. big bombers are faster than any others — got the retort discourteous from an Air Force sergeant when reports of the raids came in: "Yeah, they ain't as fast as theirs—coming down."

IT HAS been a keynote of U. S. airplane construction policy that there is no all-purpose plane. Different planes for different jobs. The rule has been the rule. The squawk about the inadequacy of P-40 and P-39 planes came from those who didn't know the facts.

These ships were designed as mid-level fighters. Their best work is done around 15,000 feet or less. We've been slow to get into production of fighters for the 40,000-foot level, but our British allies had plenty of high-level fighters, crack ships that ask no favors of any high-altitude fighters. Our own P-38's and P-47's are now coming into quantity production, and they'll equal anything at the top of the aeronautical stairs.

In certain critical sectors, it's been necessary to throw mid-level fighters into the air against high-level enemy ships. Even then, they gave a wonderful account of themselves against odds. The score of U. S. pilots in U. S. ships against enemy aircraft in all sectors where they've seen action far outweighs losses. That doesn't sound like inferior planes.

The Air Forces are getting pretty tired of the recurring beefs of self-styled critics, and one day soon may have some very interesting things to say about the critics' motives and knowledge. It can't come too soon. The notion that American youth is being sent to fight in inferior planes is pure bunk.

MAN ABOUT MANHATTAN

By GEORGE TUCKER

NEW YORK — The John C. Wilson office, representing Noel Coward in America, has a special clipping bureau service on Coward as an added means of checking up on Coward plays being produced by small companies and amateur groups throughout the continent.

These clipping bureaus comb the newspapers and magazines of the country for mention of a client's name. And each clipping is relayed to the client at roughly 7 cents per clip.

The other day Dizzy Dean, broadcasting a baseball game in St. Louis, cried, "I ain't no Noel Coward!" and it cost Coward $17 in clipping fees.

Incidentally, this little mention will cost him a pretty penny, too—but with "Blithe Spirit" making the kind of money it has been making—Coward can afford it. Where is Coward at the moment? Touring rural England in a cycle of three Coward plays.

BARRY WOOD will argue with you that Connecticut tops the nation in vocal output, pointing out that these singing celebrities have homes in the Nutmeg State—Gladys Swarthout, Grace Moore, James Melton, Libby Holman, Anna Kaskas, Charles Kullman, Lawrence Tibbett, Paul Robeson, Eileen Farrell, Rose Hampton, and Rosa and Carmen

It can be said authoritatively that U. S. planes are most sturdy built than any in the air today. No other ships will take the punching around and still get home. This is a vital factor in a war where trained flying personnel is even more precious than planes—it takes longer to make a pilot or bombardier.

Sheffield, Penna., Sept. 7, 1942.

Editor, Warren Times-Mirror, Warren, Penna.

Dear Sir: I was interested to note in one of your recent issues that your paper would publicize a drive for scrap material. A few months ago, we moved onto an old farm and since then have collected scrap old cars which we have offered to three different junk dealers from Warren. Each has given us an estimate and promised to return for the junk. My husband has gone to the work of dismantling one of these and I have the title ready for the other. May be others have had similar experience and can't find sale for their salvage.

Very respectfully,
Scraper.

HOLLYWOOD SIGHTS AND SOUNDS

By ROBBIN COONS

HOLLYWOOD—I had the unusual experience today of hearing a pretty little movie star refer to herself as a "lemon," a reference which bore out, though she wasn't aware of it, her thesis on temperamental foreign movie stars.

The actress was Marta Eggerth. Miss Eggerth is blonde and fetching, and she sings with the high ease and lilt of a bird. In European pictures she was a big star, in the days when European pictures were not devoted to Hitler propaganda, and recently she was a star in New York in the musical "Higher and Higher." In Hollywood pictures, so far, she is a very little star but quite an authority on temperamental foreign actresses.

In her two pictures here to date, "For Me and My Gal" and "Presenting Lily Mars," she has played temperamental actresses who get in the way and hair of Judy Garland.

SHE says she doesn't mind that, except that she wonders why foreign actresses are all supposed to be temperamental. "You must have had some unusual foreigners here at one time to give Hollywood that impression," she says. (Shades of Pola Negri, Jetta Goudal, and the other old-time exotics! Yes, they were unusual.)

"But the truth is," says Marta Eggerth, "in Europe the players never had time to be temperamental. We had to work fast. No actress could throw things, and tear her wardrobe to shreds in a fit of anger. If she did, there wouldn't be any more—and we all knew it."

"I think some foreigners get that reputation because they do not make themselves understood clearly. They do not know the language so well, and they do not understand what is said to them either."

Miss Eggerth is Hungarian-born, and married to Polish singer Jan Kiepura. When Kiepura made movies here some years ago he had an A-1 reputation for temperamental—but Mrs. Kiepura says it isn't so. "Our best friends," she declares conclusively, "are the people we work with—that should prove it, shouldn't it?"

As for Marta herself, she sang all morning in a gypsy number, and married to Polish singer Jan Kiepura. When Kiepura made movies here some years ago he had an A-1 reputation for temperamental—but Mrs. Kiepura says it isn't so. "Our best friends," she declares conclusively, "are the people we work with—that should prove it, shouldn't it?"

banking committee either Friday or Monday.

Brown, declaring both houses should act promptly and simultaneously on the president's request, said:

"While some may feel that it is putting the proposition rather bluntly by telling us 'you do it or I will,' but by putting a time limit on a rather slow moving congress, it must be remembered that action is vital and vital now."

There was little apprehension on Capitol Hill that the president would move to stabilize prices by executive order on Oct. 1, provided congress had made good progress toward that end by the deadline he mentioned.

Agreeing with the president that floors were as desirable as ceilings for farm prices, the Michigan senator said they probably would be included in the program. The proposed bill would call for repeal of section 3 of the price control act, which provides that price ceilings on farm products may not be set at less than 110 per cent of parity, or the market price as of last Oct. 1, last Dec. 15, or the average price from 1919 to 1929, whichever is highest. (Parity is a level calculated to give the farmer income equivalent to that in a past favorable period, in most cases 1909-14.)

The act provides that ballot requests be received not less than 30 days and not more than 60 days before an election. Boards receiving requests before the prescribed Sept. 14-Oct. 3 dates were asked to hold them until that time before granting official recognition.

Republican headquarters reported the party's forces were canvassing homes with men in service and then writing directly to the service men urging that they qualify for voting.

Secretary J. Warren Mickle of the Democratic committee reported his party also working through county organization to get applications to service men. Some groups are getting families of men in the armed forces to urge them to qualify and vote.

any form of inflationary spending by channeling it into insurance payments, debt retirement, bond purchases or post war rebates.

With treasury officials scheduled to report on the possibility of combining this new "victory" impost with the regular income tax in the new revenue bill, committee members said the net result in any event might be to increase the nation's annual tax yield to more than $25,000,000,000, compared with slightly more than $17,000,000,000 collected under present laws.

As approved by the committee yesterday, the "victory" tax would constitute a 5 per cent impost, collected at the source where possible, on all income above $24 a year derived from wages, salaries, interest, dividends and other common sources.

len Ellender, former lieutenant of the late Huey P. Long, in yesterday's primaries, and in Minnesota, Republicans presented wide leads to renomination efforts of Governor Harold E. Stassen and Senator Joseph H. Ball.

In Colorado, Senator Ed C. Johnson, assailed by his primary opponent, Justice Benjamin C. Hilliard, for what he termed pre-war isolationism and obstructionist tactics against President Roosevelt's administration, had a wide margin of votes for the Democratic senatorial nomination.

In Washington, Johnson said he was "too busy helping Franklin with the war effort to campaign in the primary."

Governor Ralph L. Carr won the Republican senatorial nomination without opposition.

Governor Herbert R. O'Connor won renomination for a second term as Democratic chief executive of Maryland and in Vermont, U. S. Representative Charles A. Plumley took Republican renomination for the state's one house seat by nearly a two to one majority over Samuel R. Ogden, architect and former state legislator.

O'Connor, chairman of the council of state governors, will be opposed by Theodore Roosevelt McKelvin, Baltimore attorney, who easily obtained the Republican nomination.

In primary balloting today, Georgia Democrats determine outcome of Governor Eugene Eugene Talmadge's bid for a fourth term in a campaign chiefly concerned with his claims to white supremacy.

Arizona Democrats gave Representative John R. Murdock an early lead for nomination to one of two seats at large over Richard F. Harless, Phoenix attorney. Governor Sidney P. Osborn obtained a wide early margin over his three opponents.

In South Carolina, a neck and neck race developed between State Senator George K. Laney of Chesterfield and Rancome J. Williams of Mullins for Democratic nomination for lieutenant governor.

In the Milne Bay sector, on the southeast tip of New Guinea, Australian troops were credited with inflicting 700 casualties on the enemy, and reports said the Japanese sea-borne force in that area had now been practically wiped out.

Despite bad weather prevailing over the New Guinea battle region, Allied bombers and torpedo-carrying planes carried out repeated attacks on Japanese warships north of Milne Bay, pounding the enemy on Monday near Normanby Island and again Tuesday among the Tobi Islands. A Japanese destroyer was listed as probably hit.

Other Allied fliers attacked and set fire to a group of Japanese barges ferrying supplies along the New Guinea coast to Buna, the base for the enemy thrust toward Port Moresby.

RIGHT

ATTITUDE POSITION: Arm and leg of same side go up together, knee raised high as possible. Most amateurs, says Gambarelli, err in bringing up opposite leg and holding it in crippled position.

FIFTH TOE POSITION: Limb line should be straight, with arches forced well forward to distribute weight between knee, ankle and toe. Bent knees and inverted arches put all weight on toes.

TWO WRONGS DON'T MAKE A RIGHT

BOWS are cute, but wrong. Ribbons should be tied in back with knot and toe tie tucked in.

ELBOWS in this backbend should be straighter and hands closer together to complete arm oval which should prevail instead of angle, says Gambarelli.

ARMS are correctly held here but hands should meet over head, fingertips turning in. Note Gambarelli's strain in doing these "wronges."

All Proceeds Will Go To Army Relief; Bout Slated For Afternoon

CORRY, NFO MIX TONIGHT IN TITLE GO

The National Forge and Ordnance team invades Corry tonight in an all-important battle with the Corry Merchants in a game that is billed as a Tri-County League championship affair.

If weather conditions are favorable along about eight o'clock, the two outfits will go at it with no holds barred and prestige, if little else, at stake.

The Forge defeated Corry last Friday night by an 11-5 count to equal the league series between the two teams and tie them in number of games won and lost.

And while the semi-pro circuit is actually dead now, tonight's title game can be considered thus because when the loop folded only Corry and the Forge remained in the pennant chase.

General's Keystone Ordnance Works and the Meadowville Pioneers were the remaining two original entrants in the league.

A large crowd is expected to be on hand for tonight's ball game, probably the final one for the season for both teams. Game time is eight o'clock.

BY SID FEDER

New York, Sept. 9.—(P)—Simply for the picture of giving the wives and kiddies of our doughboys a million dollars, a doughboy of Uncle Sam's soldiers are going to climb into Yankee Stadium ring on Columbus Day to fight the hottest tistic "natural" in six years.

It is almost as sure as a bomb-sights aim that the heavyweight championship return fight on Oct. 12 between Corp. Joe Louis, boss man of the back-busters, and Pte. Billy Conn, who almost took the title a year ago, will hit the million-dollar jackpot for the first time since the Bomber's second bout with Max Schmeling in '38.

The memory of the fireworks they set off in their first brawl is enough to bring the customers storming back again. And, if more help was needed, the fact that this one is entirely for Army Emergency Relief will more than make up the difference. What's more, promoter Mike Jacobs is shooting at a crowd of 77,000 and a gate of $1,200,000—with tickets scaled from $3 to $40—and he figures a lot of the folks who will be here for the World Series the first week in October will stick around and help jingle the cash registers.

Yet, not one nickel of it, except for minor expenses, will go to either fighter or promoter. Jacobs, the son of the Alabama cotton picker, the tough Irish kid out of Pittsburgh and the fighter promoter who grew up on New York's bloom-less sidewalks and now likes to raise gardenias will dump the whole pot into the bank account for the families of our soldiers. It will be easily the biggest "score" the Army fund has made in any single event to date.

The Army, at long last, gave its official blessing to the get-together yesterday after keeping all hands in a lather of doubt about it for a dozen weeks or so.

The Bomber and the Pittsburgh Pretty Boy are going to do a pretty fair country job of rewriting the record books on the subject. The simple fact that Joe and Billy are putting this one on for the house—doing the almost unheard-of stunt of fighting for the world heavyweight championship for nothing—is about enough to have them read out of the union.

Then, too, it marks the first time in legalized nose-mashing that two soldier boys have fought for the richest prize package in the business. On top of that, it will be the first daylight fight for the big haul since Jack Dempsey and Tom Gibbons broiled under the sun at Shelby, Mont., 19 years back. Because of dim-out regulations here, promoter Mike plans to move it up to 3 p. m.

BANK SHOTS

BY FLOYD PASSINGER, Sports Editor

The Warren High footballers looked more like a grid squad against Academy on Monday than did they against Youngsville last Saturday, but they still have many improvements to make. . . . Most outstanding of these is building stronger defenses at both ends. . . . Had the Lions realized the yardage they could have undoubtedly made on Monday with a few "sweepers," the Dragons would have found their guests farther ahead at the finish. . . . But other departments improved on the local squad. . . . Mike Blech turned in some nice punting, out-kicked Stubbenhofer and Javorek, who handled most of Eric boots, in a real duel. . . . Academy isn't up to its strength of last year. . . . But then, Monday could have been their "off day." . . . Youngsville has a bunch of scrappers who foes had better handle with care. . . . Joe Passaro seems on the right road to producing one of the finest Eagles squads in recent years. . . . Their blocking and running on Saturday against the Leidenham were the most impressive feats in the game. . . . Sheffield opens its 1942 grid campaign against Waterford on Saturday, with "Lo" Eisenhauer at the helm, and he's preparing a Wolverine aggregation which must not be taken lightly. . . . Oil City's Oilers, who haven't won a football contest since 1939, are gunning for their first triumph over the three-year lapse when they tangle with Titusville Friday night in the season opener. . . . The Oilers boast 10 lettermen this year. . . . They ought to win a ball game somewhere along the line. . . . They managed to tie Franklin in the final fracas last year, but that was an improvement over their past outings. . . .

The New York Yankees have announced that they are now accepting applications for World Series tickets. . . . Under the usual series system, tickets will be sold only in three-game strips, covering the third, fourth and fifth games of the series in the Yankee Stadium. . . . The first two games will be played this year in the park of the National League champion. . . . Looks like the most interesting race in the majors at the current time isn't that between the Cardinals and Dodgers for the pennant, but the one between the Phils and Bums to see whether Lobert's cellar-dwellers can lose 100 before the Brooks can win as many. . . . Girard High comes to town on Saturday, and a week from then the Dragons will journey to Kane for their annual tussle with the Wolves. . . . Corry Merchants and National Forge vie tonight for the Tri-County League "title." The loop is dead but the spirit isn't. . . . But then, we imagine it was only a two-team circuit to begin with. . . . The fracas will be a good one, no matter what they're fighting with. . . . Might drop over to Corry and Loveland Park. . . . Hank Mazur, stellar Army back, will captain the West Point gridgers this season and under Coach Red Blaik, a veteran Army team is expected to be heard from loud and often. . . . There's talk of a four-team Sunday bowling league in the community, the eight-team idea having been discarded. . . . City Leaguers will organize later this week, while the rumor has it that the Industrial bowlers may shift to the PBC before loop action starts. . . . That's the latest from the bowling front. . . .

Bowling Loop Changes Site For Campaign

A change of importance was made last night among the community's bowling leagues when the Industrial loop gathered at the Arcade Recreation to settle alley difficulties.

First having decided to continue their program again this season on the Arcade lanes, conflicting dates with the four-team K. C. League arose and the problem had to be decided, the result being a shift to the Penn Bowling Center by the only public eight-team circuit not already having signified intentions of using the new alleys on the east side of town.

The Casays had been given Tuesday evenings of each week as their evening to bowl, and were sandwiched in between Monday and Wednesday evenings offered the Industrial loop.

The Industrial bowlers could not arrange for teams to be on the firing line both nights, were not in favor of a late shift, and therefore accepted Tuesday evening, only open night remaining at the PBC, and will open their season Sept. 15.

Meanwhile, it is possible that a couple new four-team leagues will be formed and operate at the Arcade during the new season.

CITY LEAGUE SERIES GAME SET TONIGHT

Weather permitting, the City Softball League championship series will resume tonight on the west side diamond with the third contest in the best three out of five game series on tap at six o'clock. Struthers-Wells team will be out to clinch the crown tonight, for they have claimed decisions in the first two games, 11-4, 7-5.

Meanwhile, the Recreation Center management was making an effort to draw the strongest powers from the revamped lineup for tonight's clash, hoping to keep the series alive.

The Center is playing in its second contest in as many summers, and both in 1941 and now have been hit hard just before series time in losing valuable players. Last year, injuries laid up three outstanding performers prior to the series. This year, several have entered the armed services during the summer.

The Center still has the qualities to make a game of it tonight, however, and though Struthers-Wells' lineup is intact, for the most part, they'll probably have their hands full before any crown is conceded to them.

As a motor ages, it is likely to run hotter and may need a different type of spark plug for best results.

Cardinals Confident They'll Catch Bums; Dodgers Gain 1/2 Game

BY SID FEDER

Associated Press Sports Writer

Take it direct from Billy (the Kid) Southworth, the Brooklyn Dodgers don't look any different to his St. Louis Cardinals than any other club in the National League.

Now this is to imply that the Phils resemble the Dodgers—or are even a reasonable facsimile thereof. But as he led his roaring Redbirds into their final full scale invasion of the east today—an invasion that the Cards still confidently expect will wind up with the National League pennant—Billy the Kid came right out with his battle strategy. "We play 'em as we meet 'em, game by game."

He stayed by this theory, even though the Bums boasted a gaudy three-game lead over the Cardinals as a result of Ed Head's fourth-inning whitewash job to give the Dodgers a 4-0 win over the Pittsburgh Pirates yesterday. The Cardinals couldn't do a thing to stop the Brooklyn from picking up that half-a-game, simply because the schedule gave them the day off.

"But we're still confident and we're still in the fight," Southworth insisted. "We play this single game with the Giants today. Then we move into Brooklyn for those two games Friday and Saturday. And then we have the Phillies and Braves after that."

There's no doubt the Cards have the toughest kind of a haul if trans-

they expect to overtake the battered Brooklyn, especially since Shortstop Slats Marion and Southpaw Ernie White are still nursing ailments. The front office tried to take up some of the slack caused by these injuries by buying Jeff Cross, Houston's classy infielder, and calling up veteran elbower Bill Beckman from Rochester yesterday.

Meantime, the Dodgers took advantage of the situation as fully as the fellow who suddenly finds the steak platter set right in front of him on the boarding house table. Head and the Bucs rolling over and playing dead, and when his mates gave him a run in the first frame, the whole thing was over. In fact, after the first inning, not a Pirate got as far as second base.

MINOR LEAGUES NOT TO MEET THIS YEAR

Durham, N. C., Sept. 9.—(P)—The annual convention of baseball's minor leagues will not be held this year because of the war, President W. G. Bramham of the National Association of Professional Baseball Leagues announced.

League presidents will be called together, at a time and place to be announced later, to transact the usual business of the association.

Raffa Aiming At Title Shot

Pittsburgh, Sept. 9.—(P)—Sergeant Mike Raffa, blond puncher now stationed at Fort Knox, Ky., expects to get a chance at one of the two featherweight boxing titles this year, if he gets by Bobby (Poison) Ivy of Hartford, Conn., in their ten-round bout at Forbes Field next Tuesday.

The contest will likely be the fastest of the five ten-round encounters, headed by the Ezzard Charles-Mose Brown tussle.

Sergeant Mike now is rated number 3 in his division. Both Chalky Wright, holder of the New York version of the crown, and Pittsburgh Jackie Wilson, recognized N. B. A. titleholder, have said they would like to fight Raffa this winter. Matchmaker Jake Mintz said he already has made an offer to both of the champions.

The other bouts on the Forbes Field card will be: Carmen Notch, Pittsburgh, against Vinnie Vines, New York, a return affair to settle a former draw; Joey Maxina, Cleveland, against Yancey Henry, Pittsburgh heavyweight, and Jose Basora, Puerto Rico, against Ossie Harris, Pittsburgh middleweight.

WOLAK TRYING FOR POST HIS DAD HELD

Pittsburgh, Sept. 9.—(P)—Mike Wolak, called a brilliant gridiron prospect by his coaches, is battling for the fullback job on the University of Duquesne team, the very post his father filled for the Dukes more than a quarter-century ago.

Chapter 22 Tense Moment

AS SOON as the Indians saw the four white people moving across the clearing the slow-motion of village life changed in an instant. Women snatched up babies and ran for their huts, children left their play and streaked after their mothers. What men were in evidence withdrew hurriedly to a large hut on the other side of the compound.

This hut, Sandy surmised, was the longest either to their head man or priest. Boldly he directed his course toward it.

When Sandy's group reached the hut more men were still arriving. They nudged against the wall, facing the intruders, and Sandy had to admit that they looked pretty menacing with their barbaric ear plugs, brown sinewy bodies and razor-sharp swords. Here and there he also noticed a blow-pipe, another weapon of the ancient Maya.

He addressed the Indians in a Mayan patois saying that he had come to visit their head man. He saw by their faces that they understood enough of his speech to gather his meaning. However, they made no response. Sandy waited a moment, then repeated his message in slightly different wording. Again there was silence, but suddenly, a figure appeared in the hut door.

The newcomer was clothed in a simple head-dress of bright, hued feathers of tropical birds, and it was evident that he considered himself imposing for he halted dramatically upon the threshold of the hut, like an actor making a grand entrance. However, he had no more to say than a great distance to your village from beyond the mountains where white men live. We come in friendship.

A shadow passed over the Indian's face. "You speak with a forked tongue, oh white stranger. A Watch has even now brought word that you seek to rob the Serpent God of the Urn. This is not friendship."

A murmur went up from the assembled Indians, but a gesture from the feather-garbed man brought instant quiet.

Sandy began—"You are the head man?"

"I am Hunac-Ceel," the fellow answered in a guttural voice.

Sandy gathered his wits. "Hunac-Ceel, you come from a great distance to your village from beyond the mountains where white men live. We come in friendship."

A shadow passed over the Indian's face. "You speak with a forked tongue, oh white stranger. A Watch has even now brought word that you seek to rob the Serpent God of the Urn. This is not friendship."

Serpent God's Treasure

"THE Urn!"

"It may be we do not understand each other, Hunac-Ceel," Sandy hedged. "This urn you speak of is sacred to your people."

"It is the treasure of the Serpent God," Hunac-Ceel stated.

"Ah!" Sandy murmured as if all this was news to him. "A treasure. Gold, perhaps? Precious jewels?"

Hunac-Ceel said, with dignity, "You speak in riddles. What is gold? What are precious jewels? The urn was given into the protection of the Serpent God in long ages past before our fathers' fathers looked upon the light of the sun. The urn is not for human eyes to gaze upon."

"Then you have never seen this urn?" Sandy asked carefully.

"No human eye has ever beheld the urn. None shall, White Stranger."

As he spoke the last words he fixed upon the group a look of such baleful portent that Sandy had the feeling only a signal was needed to send every Jack-man of them surging forward with brandished swords.

It was a tight spot and he took refuge in a disarming grin.

Chapter 23 Get-Away

SANDY managed a grin. "I understand this is a warning, Hunac-Ceel." He spoke to the others in a lower tone. "Come on. It's over. Let's get out of here. But don't walk too fast. Don't act as if you are afraid. It might be the spark needed to set off something."

So like a squad of soldiers, they marched across the clearing, their backs to the group around the hut. Sandy's flesh did not cease twitching, however, until they were on the path and had out some distance between them and the Indians. Even then he cut off the questions with a curt—"We'd better keep going for awhile."

They reached the base of the precipice and started climbing for Sandy was certain they could reach the top, even if the trail itself ended at the cave entrance. However, the trail did not end there, or rather, another began just above the cave and went on to the brow of the plateau. While they climbed Sandy was conscious of eyes upon them in the hidden village below. Maybe other eyes, too, in the bush.

The trail emerged some distance back of the square of pyramids.

"We can talk now," Sandy said. "But we'll keep walking in case they have watchers stationed around up here, too."

Did that feathered Indian threaten our lives, Sandy? Helen asked.

Sandy sketched the interview giving, also, some of his own deductions.

"This tribe would be a gold mine for an ethnologist," Gil said. "Sandy said 'there's no doubt but that Hunac-Ceel and his people have straightened out some of our difficulties. We know why we've felt watched. We know who hacked out the path on the pyramid, and all that. And I think we also know why the Forbidden Land has such an evil reputation.'"

"Somehow I thought that was solved by the bugs and the impassable gorges and the wild howls and other natural barriers," Gil said drolly. "Lord, chief, no Indian would go through what we have to reach this place."

What To Do?

"NO Indian has our incentive," Sandy added. "The natural barriers contribute to the way the Indians feel about the Forbidden Land. But I have an idea that if one could sift the whole thing to the bottom, find that long ago before Hunac-Ceel or any of these people now living were born, some Indians from outside penetrated to this plateau and met with disaster, enough of them escaping to tell the tale."

"We'll have to think up some way to circumvent the Serpent God and his Priests," Gil stated, after a moment.

Sandy chuckled. "When we don't even know who or what the priests are, where or how they might strike, we're going to have a devil of a time circumventing them."

"We are fairly certain they'll strike in the altar room," Gil said. "And we're blamed sure they'll be something that lead bullets will stop."

"You can't tell," Sandy said. "Those Indians might drop a section of the roof or let us through a trap door. But we'll figure out something. We have to."

At that Tyrus glanced up at him quickly. "You're going back to that room and face whatever danger lurks there? Is that the Rooster stone as valuable as all that?"

"My dear girl," Sandy said sardonically. "That Maya key happens—at the moment—to be

Chapter 24 The most valuable thing in life, to me

Her eyes searched his as if for assurance that he spoke only in a joking way. "But—you said . . ."

"I said 'at the moment,' and didn't you just now tell us that we enjoy our hardships only we don't realize it? I'm going to try to realize that I'm having a glorious time when I run the gamut of the Serpent God and his Priests."

Tyrus was silent. At last she stammered out, "Sandy, don't—do anything—until you've talked to me again, will you?"

"If you make it soon," Sandy promised.

What did she mean, he wondered? Was she going to tell him, at last, what she had withheld from the beginning?

Plans Endangered

It had been a day of revelations for Tyrus. She had run a scale of emotions that kept her jumping like a jitterbug inwardly. Only a little of her feelings had escaped them, or rather, another must have appeared without sense or reason to the others. But she just had not been capable of holding herself in control, every instant.

When she entered camp, late in the afternoon, she found her job, and knew that he had come in early to discover what she had learned.

Her first words were meant to reassure him. "It's all right, Dad. They are really archaeologists. I've never seen anything so dangerous."

She did not say how relieved and glad she had been and how her spirits, soaring to gaiety when she established her proof, had baffled the others.

Mr. Fleming gave a grunt of satisfaction. "I'm glad you went chink for now my mind is at ease about those people. It doesn't matter if they find out what we're doing here. Where did you go? Up to the pyramids?"

Tyrus seated herself on the ground by the fire where one of the Yacut was stirring something in a pot. She hugged her bare knees and looked intently into the low flames. Then she described the trip through the big pyramid and the Chamber of the Serpent God, with its fearsome atmosphere of sudden danger.

"They are looking for that lost key to the ancient Maya hieroglyphics, Dad," she went on. "They have information that it is concealed under that particular altar. Sandy actually began digging for it, then—we heard something and—"

"And what, Tyrus?" Fleming prompted, when she halted.

"And we ran down a passage-way—Dad, we found an Indian village behind the Mayan city!"

"Don't tell me a tall one like that, chick."

But he had to believe it as the story unfolded from Tyrus's lips. "You see, Dad, all the months we've been here those Indians have been spying on us to see that we didn't molest that altar."

"Mr. Fleming took a turn around the fire. 'Spied on,' he muttered. 'I suppose they know where we go every day—what we do. And any minute they might—'

"He swung around to Tyrus. "You say they warned that Sandy Morse fellow to leave the altar alone? What did they tell him they'd do with him?"

"They said the priests would destroy anyone who tampered with the urn. And I don't think they'd stop there. You should have seen the way they looked at us! As if they'd like to beat us into the earth! I believe they would have if Hunac-Ceel had said a word. If—Sandy makes of it that urn I know it wouldn't be safe for any of us to stay on the plateau."

Interesting Window Exhibits At the Metzger-Wright Store

For the remainder of the week the N. A. M.-sponsored window display, "Defense Determines the Mode," will be shown in the windows of the Metzger-Wright Co. store.

William Wright, president of the store, said: "We are glad to make this display available to the shoppers of Warren because it brings them American industry's assurance that it can achieve the tremendous demands placed upon it by the war time effort with a minimum of inconvenience to the nation's civilian consumers."

Mr. Wright went on to say that the display afforded his store an effective means of bringing to the public's notice the new materials which have been called upon by American manufacturers to supplant those "on active duty," as well as to demonstrate the ingenious ways in which old and familiar substances have been turned to new uses in answer to today's needs.

The display itself consists of two large hands symbolic of the double task American industry is seeing through. On one of these hands, stands a beautifully carved set of figures—a soldier and a nurse, representing the military. On the other, a smartly dressed young couple strides along representing the consumer. Against the appropriate side of this background, Metzger-Wright's has arranged an attractive display of the types of merchandise especially welcomed as gifts by those in the services. On the other side, they have arranged a number of household and personal items which are now made of recently unfamiliar substances or which have taken on new form as a result of priorities.

"As the meeting-ground of manufacturers and consumers," said Mr. Wright, "we feel that Metzger-Wright's is performing an important service to both in presenting this display."
